One Day Decisions saves Americans from courts, costs, collections and credit damage.

Millions of small claims lawsuits get filed every year in America, clogging court systems, costing taxpayers money and dragging on an average of 90+ days before even getting heard. People lose time and wages from work. Legal and mediation fees are expensive. Paying a losing judgment can damage a defendant's credit rating, and even if the judge awards a plaintiff a victory, there's no guarantee he'll ever collect a cent of payment.

But as of August 1, 2014 any disputed dollar amount can be settled and paid in as little as one day -- online, via desktop or mobile device, for one low, affordable fee. No court, no missing work, no legal costs, no credit damage.

For the first time ever, alternative dispute resolution is affordable for everyone. Instead of costing hundreds or thousands of dollars, One Day Decisions can settle a matter for as low as $49 per party – anywhere in the United States.

One Day Decisions is not a mediation, arbitration or a collection agency. It is not an adjudication service. It's a settlement service for people who want to settle their disputes inexpensively, in as little as one day, from the comfort of their home. Both parties sign up for free and invite the opposing party to settle by using OneDayDecisions. After both parties agree to pay a low, onetime, nonrefundable fee, video clips guide them to a quick, fair, negotiated settlement. Once an agreement is reached, the defendant pays the agreed amount by credit card and the plaintiff receives payment in full within 7-10 business days.

The defendant wins because he gets a discount. The plaintiff wins because he gets paid faster. Taxpayers win because court systems can reduce their caseloads.

But the real victory is that everyone can get on with the more important parts of their lives.

One Day Decisions is the collaboration of Ricky Frankel's choosing not to go to law school and Rob Frankel, a branding consultant based in Los Angeles, California.
